Dear Result Getter,

What if you could walk into any difficult conversation — at work, at home, or in business — and come out the other side with more progress than you've ever made before?

I'd like to invite you to join me for a powerful one-day workshop:

 Constructive Conflict Through Conversations

 Friday, May 1, 2026

In this hands-on, in-person experience, you'll discover:

- How to train your brain to approach conflict differently
- A proven process to start conversations that matter — and actually get somewhere
- Tools to achieve deeper progress in conversations than you ever thought possible

Whether you lead a corporate team, run your own business, or simply want to improve your relationships and your life, this workshop was designed for you.

 SPECIAL EARLY OFFER: This is Day 1 of a two-day training series. Sign up for both Day 1 and Day 2 together and save — get both days for just $499 (a $99 savings). Day 2 will be available later this year.
